

General intro

The backoffice is the control point for stock, trips, users, assignments, receipts and a place of configuration for the business operations